

The Heart and Soul of Health Ministries

Education, Sharing and Support for Faith Community Nurses Available via Podcast

Faith Community Nurses use all of their nursing skills, along with deep reserves of care and compassion, to promote a whole-person approach to the care of their patients. They are the heart and soul of caring.

To continuously provide such a high level of caring, Faith Community Nurses must care for themselves, too. Our series of podcasts that can inform, support and offer tools to help them refresh their commitment to their important work.

- A Conversation with Pam Cipriano, ANA past president, and Marlene Feagan, HMA past president
- FCN Scope and Standards: What's New, with Aly Breisch, chair of the HMA Scope and Standards Work Group
- A Mother's Story of a Son Suffering with a Substance Abuse Disorder
